

Jean-Pierre Ugarte

Romantic Landscapes in Contemporary Form

Biography

- Born in 1950 in Bordeaux, France
- Studied at Beaux-Arts in Paris
- Inspired by his military service, visits to Northern Europe, and the Atlantic Wall
- Since the 1980s, he has painted 450 canvas of his landscapes

Bordeaux

The Atlantic Wall

- Coastal defences and fortifications built by Nazi Germany along the Atlantic-facing coast of Europe
- Consisted of large, concrete structures

Stephan Vanfleteren. 2014. Times.

Stephan Vanfleteren. 2014. Times.

Denis Olivier. Submarine Base, Etude 1. 2020.

Former Romantic Landscape Painters

Albrecht Altdorfer. "Mountain Range". 1530.

Caspar David Friedrich. "Giant Mountains Landscape with Rising Fog". 1820.

The Metaphysical Landscapes of Jean-Pierre Ugarte

Jean-Pierre Ugarte, La Vallée, 1984

Jean-Pierre Ugarte, Le Passage, 2000

Jean-Pierre Ugarte, Passage, 2002

Jean-Pierre Ugarte, Paysage, 2005

Jean-Pierre Ugarte, Paysage, 2007

Work Inspired by Ugarte

SylvainPicard3D, https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=Q_anBFNVluI

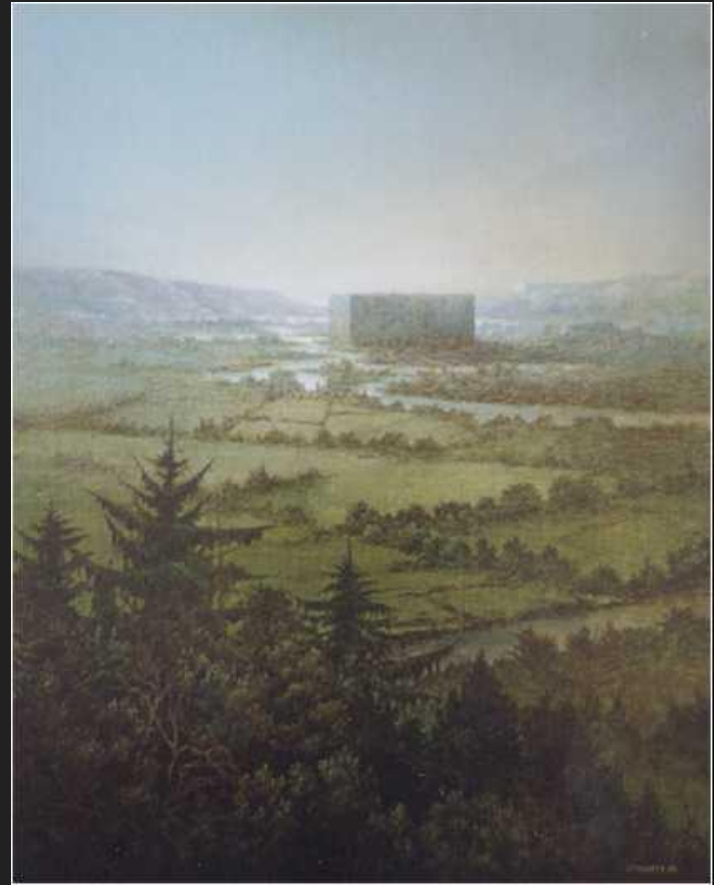

Final Thoughts

Visionary contemporary art style influenced by romantic landscape painting and postwar artifacts.

An example of turning a tired artstyle in to something new.

The artist's website:

ugarte.pagesperso-orange.fr

Jean-Pierre Ugarte, Paysage, 1999

References

<https://ugarte.pagesperso-orange.fr/>

<https://www.larepubliquedespyrenees.fr/rendez-vous-de-la-redaction/portraits-de-bearnais/ugarte-peintre-franc-tireur-5420228.php>

<https://time.com/3387172/the-ghostly-remains-of-nazi-germanys-atlantic-wall/>

<https://www.wikiart.org/en/albrecht-altendorfer/mountain-range-1530>

https://commons.wikimedia.org/wiki/File:Caspar_David_Friedrich_-_Riesengebirge_Landscape_with_Rising_Fog_-_WGA8257.jpg

<https://www.denisolivier.com/photography/submarine-base-etude-1-bordeaux-france/en/1416>

https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Atlantic_Wall#/media/File:Atlantikwall.png