

23 Aesthetics Game

Friday, March 24, 2023 6:36 PM

Today

- Grad presentation? Upcycle makeup?
- Facilitator assignments are posted in your Pod Slack
- Play Aesthetics Game with timeline movements and other aesthetics

Did 20th Century timeline sink in? Can you describe the difference between Modern and Post-Modern?

Let's play Aesthetics Game with design movements. On your sketch, give a title and call out the elements that define the aesthetic:

POST THESE INSTRUCTIONS IN CHAT

1. Best to use the Zoom app on a computer. Web version and mobile versions may not have the sketching options.
2. You'll be sent to a random breakout room in Zoom with two other folks. I'll come to your room and give you your object/aesthetic combination to sketch.
3. One of you should share "Whiteboard" (one of the screen share options). Then all
4. Three of you can write together on the board. See your meeting options for "Whiteboard" or "Annotation"
5. Your team will have 20 minutes to sketch up to three versions applying your assigned aesthetic to your assigned object. You can work together on the same sketch, or make separate sketches. Sign your work!
6. I'll come to your room and grab a screenshot to show the class when we come back together.
7. Consider the essentials of the aesthetic and what it represents. Google it if you don't know.
8. Consider your object. Feel free to decrease the functional values in favor of the aesthetic. Bling it up!
9. Be sure to annotate: use text to point out features
10. Include a large title for your artifact, plus your room number and participants names
11. Upload final image to Slack. I'll download them for discussion.
